Conditions of Sale

Vendors are asked to either bring trailers of Fodder to the market for prospective purchasers to view and then take away after the sale, through negotiation OR bring a sample of the bales to be sold into the market to be parked up / placed in front of the doors to the main ring.

Inspection of all lots before the sale is advised and buyers will have one week after the sale to make the auctioneers aware of any queries before payment and collection.

All lots are sold per bale and the price at the fall of the hammer will be multiplied by the number of bales in the lot.

All bales are to be collected by the successful purchaser from the addresses provided in this listing via prior arrangement with the vendor using the telephone number provided.

All bales are sold 'Off the Stack' including bottom bales unless stated to the contrary.

At the fall of the hammer the highest bidder will be the successful purchaser and no bidding can be retracted.

Lots entered are for sale, subject to any reserve price by the vendor and will be sold with the option to buy the following lots for the same amount for the same type of bale from the same vendor.

Descriptions of lots provided by the vendor are believed to be correct but the approximate weights or measurements are given as guidance only and prospective purchasers are advised to inspect the lots before the sale day AND soon after the sale and make any queries known the auctioneers.

Payment for all lots is to be on the sale day. Terms of sale are cash or debit card and all fodder must be paid for in full.

Collection of lots from the farms will not be allowed until full payment has been made to the auctioneers.

Vendors must be responsible for checking with the auctioneers when buyers come to collect that payment has been.

Vendors of sold lots will be paid 7 days from the day of the sale.
